ABOUT SAC

The Singapore Association for Counselling (SAC) is the professional body representing counsellors, psychotherapists, counselling educators and students in Singapore. SAC has come a long way – pioneered in 1982 by Mr Anthony Yeo from Counselling and Care Centre together with a small group of counsellors.

Between 1996 – 1999, a Paper was developed by the EXCO to propose standards for the Recognition and Licensing of Professional Counsellors in Singapore. This Paper was presented to the then Ministry of Community Development (MCD) in 1999 but was rejected as the counsellor fraternity was considered too small.

In 1999, Constitutional amendments related to training standards for membership were approved by the Registry of Societies and implemented for new membership applications. Subsequently, SAC's first Code of Ethics was accepted at its Extraordinary General Meeting.

In the year 2000, SAC established new guidelines for the accreditation of counsellor training courses in Singapore to ensure clinical practice and supervision components were adequately in place.

SAC Register of Counsellors was established during its 20th Annual General Meeting in March 2003. The first SAC Website was launched. The SAC Constitution was amended for more clarity on its definition of a trained and qualified counsellor with emphasis on the details of training, practicum, and clinical supervision.

SAC partnered the Ministry of Community Development and Sports, and the National Council of Social Service (NCSS) to develop standard counselling courses. The First Joint Committee meeting involved SAC, NCSS, and SSTI. This was followed by MCYS, SASW and the NUS Social Work Department. The first Course Recognition Manual was launched in December 2005.

New Membership Categories were introduced, and the SAC Constitution went through a major review and update in 2013. SAC became a full member of the National Council of Social Service (NCSS) since April 2015. In October 2015, SAC Ethics Manual of Procedures was launched by our Guest of Honour, Minister of State for the Ministry of Health, Dr Amy Khor at our inaugural Symposium attended by 500 delegates.

In 2016, SAC's Register of Clinical Supervisors was established during our 34th Annual General Meeting. The new Clinical Supervision Standards and Procedures document was approved. SAC also established a New Clinical Supervision Components and Standards for New Clinical Supervisor Applicants and was approved at the 35th AGM in 2017 to be in effect from June 2018.

On 03 November 2017, the new SAC Logo, Website, and Member Portal was launched by Mayor Denise Phua at the half-day 35th Anniversary Conference. At the end of 2018, the EXCO decided to terminate the Secretariat services with the Singapore Professional Centre. From 2019, SAC employed its own staff to operate its secretariat and engaged external accounting services.

Membership passed the millennium mark in 2020 and in the following year saw the Association upgraded our external relations with many local as well as overseas friends, mostly notable was the MOU signed with the Hong Kong Professional Counselling Association.

SAC marked our 40th anniversary in 2022 with a series of webinars, a symposium and a members' dinner where the first Singaporean academic journal of counselling was launched.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The 27th Executive Committee of the Singapore Association for Counselling (SAC) is pleased to present its Annual Report for 2023. The year under review was an eventful one. In the following pages, you will read about the many events and engagements the Association carried out during the year.

I am pleased to report that our membership remains on a growing trend. We counted 1759 members at the end of December. Number of Registered Counsellors (RC) and Registered Clinical Supervisors (RCS) have grown in tandem to 570 (2022: 472) and 139 (2022: 126), recording an increase of 20.8% and 10.3% respectively. Our financial reserves also continued its growth in a healthy trajectory. Fees collection such as advertisement and course recognition also contributed to this end. The Association recorded a surplus of $80,899 (2022: $84,549), which is 4.3% lesser than the previous year partly due to additional expenses for the regional conference held during the year. Our total fund grew by over 14.3% from $564,737 to $645,636.

Thanks to volunteers from our Subcommittees and the EXCO, we held six (6) member events throughout the year. These included new members' orientation, workshops, networking tea, leadership seminar, regional conference etc. With over 810 seats made available to members, we are pleased to share that 628 members participated in these events. While we owe much to the volunteers behind the scenes for these activities, I also like to highlight the vibrancy among of members as shown in their participation!

The most notable of all the happenings during the year is our Singapore Counselling & Psychotherapy Symposium held on 2 November 2023. The Minister for Social & Family Development and Second Minister for Health, Mr Masagos Zulkifli graced and spoke as the Guest-of-Honour. He also officiated the Counselling track of the Skills Framework for Social Services. Over 250 counsellors from Singapore, Malaysia, Indonesia, Brunei, Thailand and the Philippines attended the conference. The event was covered by mainstream media, including a report in primetime news on CNA and in the Straits Times and Berita Harian papers.

The Association hosted a regional meeting among six (6) counselling associations in Southeast Asia. A milestone was reached when the attendees, representing their respective associations signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) to kickstart the process towards growing a formal network of counselling organisations in the ASEAN region.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Earlier in the year, the Association hosted a networking tea in May, for FAM@FSC colleagues to encourage greater participation of family counsellors in SAC. In June, over 170 school and college counsellors assembled at a plenary on school counselling with speakers from polytechnics, international school, and MOE-Guidance Branch. Also in June, we held a leadership seminar for elected and appointed officers to learn and grow as Association Officials. As the Association grows in membership, events, and engagements, we need a strong team to move the many pieces ahead but remained connected at the core.

As with previous years, the growth in membership and public awareness and interest in counselling added to the workload of our secretariat and accountants. More and larger scale events also contributed to that end. We are lucky to have a committed team who see meaning in supporting the profession that is helping others. I want to record thanks to our secretariat Ms Sandra Lim and Ms Mandy Ng for their hard work during the year. In line with better governance, we continued the process of having our accounts audited by a Public Accountant. I am pleased to report that we have been returned with an unqualified opinion for our financial statements for the year. We are grateful to Ms Sarah Phua and Ms Lee Pei Yee from Genesis Consulting & Solutions for carrying out their roles dutifully.

On behalf of all members, I want to thank the Chairpersons and member-volunteers of all Sub-committees and Boards. I thank Mr Andy Lam, Ms Hema Gurnani, and other colleagues on the 27th Executive Committee for their commitment and leadership. I take this opportunity to thank the MSF, MOE, MOM, FJC, NCSS, AMFTS, Singapore Psychological Society, Hwa Chong Institution, Care Corner Singapore, and all other stakeholders for their support rendered to the Association during the year.

To all members, THANK YOU for your participation and support at Association events and activities. I encourage you to take time to read the pages of this annual report, be inspired and join us in one way or another in the current year.

The School and College Counsellors Sub-Committee (SCCSC) organised an event titled "All You Need to Know about School Counselling" on 19 June 2023 from 9am to 12pm at Hwa Chong Institution. The nature of school counselling is unique and unfamiliar to many, including fellow professionals in other settings. It was with the hope to share about school counselling, and to create awareness of its job requirements, opportunities, and career progression of the profession in different educational settings that the sub-comm decided to organise the event.

We were thankful to Hwa Chong Institution who sponsored the venue and grateful for the support of Ministry of Education – Guidance Branch, St. Joseph's Institution International, Republic Polytechnic and Ngee Ann Polytechnic who kindly sent some established counselling professionals to share about their roles in school counselling and opportunities in the sector. We were also thankful to have in attendance a few EXCO members of SAC; Dr Frederick Low (President of SAC), Ms Hema Gurnani (2nd Vice-President of SAC), and Ms Carolyn Lim (Assistant Honorary Secretary of SAC). The sub-committee was encouraged by the warm response of SAC members to our event where we had about 176 participants at our event.

A survey was conducted after the event and we were encouraged by the positive responses with 100% of the respondents agreeing that they had gained new knowledge and 86% agreed or strongly agreed that the talk content was useful and relevant.

A poll was conducted by the School and College Counsellors Sub-Committee (SCCSC) in 2023 to find out the training needs of school and college counsellors with Trauma, Latest Research Updates (Trend) and Abuse/Violence being the top three (3) identified areas of training needs. These areas would be the focal points in the planning of talk(s) for fellow practitioners in 2024.

The year under review saw the continuation of the work in growing our journal – Counselling & Psychotherapy Review Singapore. While online access was facilitated to all members to the journal, we also carried the Association's initiative to send printed copies of the inaugural issue to all members. We ordered a reprint as more new members joined during the year under review. In total, we reached a circulation of over 2020 copies by the end of the December.

At the same time, the call for papers went out for the second issue. We are pleased to report that we received good interest and a healthy number of submissions. We look forward to another fruitful year of disseminating local research and practice wisdom among our members and joining others in the global discourse in the field of counselling.

We must thank fellow members of this Sub-Committee who also double up as members of the Editorial Board for the Journal. In the same breath, we thank reviewers who helped ensure standards and quality of this nascent publication.

In total, the RCB reviewed 141 new and 208 renewal applications.

The RCB met nine (9) times last year.

Moving forward, the RCB welcomes some new members in the team. The team is represented in most common sectors in the counselling industry. The RCB will leverage on the collective wisdom of the team to review and recommend enhancements to the current registration scheme. On the operational front, the RCB will continue to streamline the processes for both new and renewal applications.

The Counsellors' Education Board (CEB) has had a busy and productive term in 2023, with stable continuity of the Board's membership. The CEB is also open to recruiting experienced practitioners to the Board and as reviewers, as there it continues to expand its work in 2024.

The CEB received four (4) renewal applications and six (6) new applications since the last Annual General Meeting. The CEB is currently still reviewing a total of two (2) pending applications. The CEB continued to attend to increasing interest from course providers in Singapore regarding counsellor education and provided two (2) formal consultations sessions and several email responses to queries.

The CEB has also worked closely with institutions on their needs and challenges in providing counsellor education. A survey was conducted with the ten (10) institutions providing SAC-recognised programmes to look into the trends and needs of counsellors-in-training's practicums and clinical supervision. It was recommended that pre-Covid requirements for students' counselling experience be reinstated and that the use of technology by students for counselling during practicum be carefully thought through and implemented with enhanced supervision, safety, audit, and feedback processes in place.

The CEB Co-Chairpersons would like to take this opportunity to express appreciation and gratitude to their team members for their contribution and support.

Members:

Mr Benny Bong

Ms Mittal Vinti

Ms Rose Apphia Rujiab Faquir

Mrs Toh-Chua Juliana Swee Lin

Dr Muni Winslow* (Psychiatrist)

Mr Robin Lim* (Lawyer)

This report is of the work undertaken by members of the Ethics Board for the period March 2023 to March 2024. This Ethics Board was appointed for a 2-year term and we are thankful for the commitment of each Ethics Board Member.

The Ethics Board met several times online in 2023 for the following two (2) matters:

1. To complete the Review of the SAC Manual of Ethical Procedures (2015) which will be presented at this Annual General Meeting. We are thankful for the dedicated commitment and effort put in by each EB member to review, read, revise, and confirm the final edited version which was submitted to the SAC Executive Board for approval. We are indebted to the tireless work of Ms Stacey Teng, a volunteer lawyer and friend of Mr Robin Lim for the many hours she put into vetting, reviewing, and re-organizing the SAC Ethics Manual of Procedures. We believe this revised version can serve SAC well for an extended period in the coming years.
2. The SAC Secretariat received a total of five (5) complaints against our members in 2023. On further investigation and attending to these complaints, all the complainants decided not to pursue further investigations. They wanted to alert and register their unhappiness to the leadership of SAC that as clients, members of the public are more forthcoming to raise their concerns and unhappiness in their encounters with SAC Members.

While the COVID years of 2020-2021 and 2022, were considered "quiet years" - the reconvening of active face-to-face counseling and psychotherapy in 2023 and the numbers of complaints received have given a clear indication to the Ethics Board that all SAC Members must uphold a higher standard of integrity and professionalism in their practice as we deliver counseling services to the community.

Counseling and psychotherapy are viewed as a professional service of people-helping provided by trained professionals who could offer interpersonal, intrapersonal, emotional, and psychological help responsibly to members of the public in Singapore and overseas - via technology.

Here are brief pointers as a reminder to all SAC Members to adhere to the SAC Code of Ethics:

1. The SAC Code of Ethics sets out the standards for members' professional conduct and defines the professional obligations and principles of competent and ethical practice.
2. The SAC Code of Ethics covers various aspects of the counselling relationship, such as informed consent, confidentiality, fees, referrals, termination, and prohibited relationship.
3. The SAC Code of Ethics also addresses the ethics and general conduct of members, such as respect for human dignity, diversity, social justice, integrity, and accountability.
4. The SAC Code of Ethics requires members to maintain and enhance their professional competencies through continual education and development, as well as to adhere to the clinical responsibilities, measurements and evaluation, research and publication, role of technology, and public statements.

It is therefore the conviction of the Ethics Board that it is imperative for all Clinical Members, Registered Counsellors, and Registered Clinical Supervisors to

1. Be vigilant in their professional practice, and
2. Be open to further dialogue on how they are managing their practices with accountability and professionalism
3. Seeking clinical supervision and peer supervision
4. To uphold the SAC Code of Ethics, and the Clinical Supervision Standards of Procedures as published and available on the SAC website.

Please contact the SAC Secretariat should you wish to have a soft copy of the two (2) documents, or you may view the documents on the SAC website. The SAC Ethics Board wishes everyone a responsible, meaningful, and successful professional practice in 2024 and in the years ahead.

SINGAPORE COUNSELLING & PSYCHOTHERAPY SYMPOSIUM 2023

SAC is glad to share a significant milestone for the counselling community as the Counselling Track under the Skills Framework for Social Service was launched by Minister Masagos and Dr Frederick Low at our Singapore Counselling & Psychotherapy Symposium on 2 November 2023.

Over 250 counselling practitioners, educators, and aspiring students attended our Symposium and benefitted from the vast experiences shared by our regional and local counselling experts! We were delighted to host attendees from various countries like Brunei, China, Hong Kong, Indonesia, Malaysia, Myanmar, the Philippines, and Thailand, in addition to Singapore!

Together with the launch of the framework, we hope that this has provided aspiring counsellors, existing practitioners, training providers, and employers with clarity and direction in the development of counselling skillsets in the various sectors of counselling. SAC continues to press on and we look forward to the positive advancement of the counselling profession, in Singapore and across the region!
