Is AI already part of your practice?

Many counsellors are beginning to encounter Artificial Intelligence (AI) tools in their day-to-day work but are unsure how to navigate them clinically.

This workshop provides a collaborative space to explore these questions together, with practical insights on seamlessly bringing AI and technology into your work.

We are thrilled to be joined by Dr Amelia Sim, Senior Consultant and Deputy Chief at the Department of Psychosis & Head of the Early Psychosis Intervention Programme (EPIP) at the Institute of Mental Health (IMH), to share her clinical insights on how the use of AI by both practitioners and patients is transforming care and reshaping practices.
